

BREAK UP WITH YOUR MEGA-BANK!

GreenAmerica.org

1.

Open community investing checking and savings accounts.

Find a community development bank or credit union in our Community Investing Guide:

GreenAmerica.org/go/ci

- ▶ Visit www.cdbanks.org or www.cdco.coop for more options.
- ▶ Transfer direct deposits or withdrawals to your new bank, then close your old accounts. (Get step-by-step checklist at GreenAmerica.org/go/toolkit).
- ▶ Tell your old bank why you left!
- ▶ Tell your break up story on our blog or Facebook page!

2.

Find a greener credit card.

Cut up your mega-bank credit cards and mail them back to the bank saying why you're leaving.

Read our Living Green article on finding a greener credit card:

3.

Involve your faith community.

Encourage your place of worship to make the shift to a community development bank or credit union.

Get a toolkit at:

www.ussif.org/resources/pubs

Places of worship can also invest their money in socially responsible funds and be active shareowners in promoting corporate responsibility.

4.

Involve your alma mater.

Shift your college or university toward community development
banking and investing:
